

We need to make it easier for a far wider variety of people to shape our reality. There is too much control preventing truth from reaching the people, this is dangerous to our country.